

Support Portal | Registry Services

Knowledgebase > Routines > Registrar Transfer > Can the registrant do a registrar transfer if the domain name is the subject of an ADR/UDRP process or court case?

Can the registrant do a registrar transfer if the domain name is the subject of an ADR/UDRP process or court case?

Agent - 2021-08-05 - Registrar Transfer

Yes, however, the transfer and deregistration of domain names is blocked when the domain name is subject to an ADR/UDRP process (disputes) and when Registry Services is aware of an ongoing court process.