

Support Portal | Registry Services

Knowledgebase > Routines > Handling nameservers > Can Registry Services help a registrant implement a redelegation (nameserver management)?

Can Registry Services help a registrant implement a redelegation (nameserver management)?

Agent - 2022-08-18 - Handling nameservers

No, Registry Services cannot help registrants redelegate - registrants can request such registration services from their registrars.

The registrar is responsible for performing the registration service and ensuring that they have sufficient resources and skills to do so.