

Support Portal | Registry Services

Knowledgebase > Tech > Miscellaneous tech > What happens if domain expires after the deactivation period?

What happens if domain expires after the deactivation period?

A.A - 2022-07-05 - Miscellaneous tech

When the deactivation period (60 days) has expired, without any renewal, Registry Services will transfer the domain to an internal registrar. The message `<iis: transferNotify />` will be sent via EPP to the previous registrar.

The domain will then be released for new registration when `<iis: relDate />` is reached.