

Support Portal | Registry Services

Knowledgebase > Routines > Change of holder > How is a change of holder request handled when the company declares bankruptcy?

How is a change of holder request handled when the company declares bankruptcy?

Agent - 2022-08-16 - Change of holder

The registrar must have routines to ensure that the person who requests the change of holder (transfer) is entitled to do so. For a company in bankruptcy, the trustee normally has this right, and the contact persons that were specified probably no longer have the right to act on behalf of the company.

As a rule, the trustee must always be contacted in matters concerning companies that have declared bankruptcy.